

How to Present Well

Rebecca L. Perlman

*Assistant Professor of Politics and International Affairs
Princeton University*

May 16, 2021

How to Present Well: Content

- Motivate your talk with a puzzle or question

How to Present Well: Content

- Motivate your talk with a puzzle or question
- Give a preview of your answer (and rest of talk) early

How to Present Well: Content

- Motivate your talk with a puzzle or question
- Give a preview of your answer (and rest of talk) early
- Tell us why we should care

How to Present Well: Content

- Motivate your talk with a puzzle or question
- Give a preview of your answer (and rest of talk) early
- Tell us why we should care
- Outline existing literature briefly then tell us your contribution

How to Present Well: Content

- Motivate your talk with a puzzle or question
- Give a preview of your answer (and rest of talk) early
- Tell us why we should care
- Outline existing literature briefly then tell us your contribution
- Don't over-claim, but also don't sell yourself short

How to Present Well: Content

- Motivate your talk with a puzzle or question
- Give a preview of your answer (and rest of talk) early
- Tell us why we should care
- Outline existing literature briefly then tell us your contribution
- Don't over-claim, but also don't sell yourself short
- Know your audience!

How to Present Well: Slides

- Keep text to a minimum

How to Present Well: Slides

- Keep text to a minimum
- Use images

How to Present Well: Slides

- Keep text to a minimum
- Use images
- Make slide titles informative

How to Present Well: Slides

- Keep text to a minimum
- Use images
- Make slide titles informative
- Use pauses to your advantage

How to Present Well: Slides

- Keep text to a minimum
- Use images
- Make slide titles informative
- Use pauses to your advantage
- Label figures/tables clearly

How to Present Well: Delivery

- Talk to your audience (do not read notes)

How to Present Well: Delivery

- Talk to your audience (do not read notes)
- Act excited

How to Present Well: Delivery

- Talk to your audience (do not read notes)
- Act excited
- Talk slowly

How to Present Well: Delivery

- Talk to your audience (do not read notes)
- Act excited
- Talk slowly
- Enunciate

How to Present Well: Delivery

- Talk to your audience (do not read notes)
- Act excited
- Talk slowly
- Enunciate
- Practice. Practice. Practice.